The San Francisco Bay Area in the U.S. has long been known for being a place where new ideas are born. For decades, the San Francisco area was home to some of the most creative and new music anywhere. In this talk the teacher, a Bay Area local, will introduce us to different bands that San Francisco gave birth to across different genres, such as rock, hip-hop, punk and soul music. We will listen and discuss about different musical groups as well as share our own opinions and favorite music as well as learning a little bit more about San Francisco's musical history.
